Saboteur ↔ Navy ↔ Shadow enemy

The saboteur is working for a rogue faction of the Royal Navy, which does not want civilian control of the experimental Analytical Engine, and frames Eleanor's assistant, Dudley Fraser. But Fraser is actually working for the shadow enemy, who has become interested in the Iris. Did the saboteur pick Fraser at random, or intentionally?

The HMS Illustrious is captained by a school friend of Sir Guy, and does not like Mooljee. The saboteur is the captain's younger brother, but the captain does not know his covert role and would certainly deny it.

But when disaster strikes will the crew of the Iris be able to avert a tragedy in the darkness of space?
